2010 YEAR IS THE YEAR OF THE METAL TIGER AND IS THE 27TH YEAR IN THE CHINESE SIXTY-YEAR CYCLE.

The New Year of the Tiger - 2010 promises to be interesting in all aspects of life with many wonderful changes and adjustments coming to the fore.

2010 represents a period with serious changes in every sphere of life and as we enter the new decade. Within 2010 and as we approach the completion of the shift in global consciousness as predicted for 2012, we will see many major global changes across just about every aspect of life.

Firstly, a strengthening of the world's economies and stock markets as we emerge from the down turn, decisive and fresh politicians will come to power globally, and begin to improve circumstances within their borders.

The property market eases and banks are more confident in returning to offer mortgage deals to young and first-time buyers.

The manufacturing side of the economy steadies but will take another 12-18 months to fully stabilise. Strong news concerning of foreign investments from China, India and Pakistan help to fuel optimism in the recovery, especially in the retail and manufacturing sector of the market.

There will be strong and clear indicators that difficulties in the Middle East settle down as diplomats secure clearer communications between opposing sides, with some very important coalitions being formed to begin serious negotiations for peace.

Our war zones will remain unsettled for much of the first part of the year, but as we approach 2011 a withdrawal of troops will begin, which brings hope to all the families with loved ones in the Forces.

A State funeral is in evidence in 2010 and an era comes to a close as we say good-bye to a much loved icon of our time.

It seems that we will see a number of climatic disturbances which once again demand our support (flood and earthquake) and sadly a much loved film and music icon is lost due to an accident.

Global terrorism is all too present in 2010 with several failed attempts to create further atrocities diverted, but consequently our travel plans will be affected once again.

2010 represents a time when we shall open up our eyes widely to these changes and wonder how we managed to live without all these new, bright and fascinating developments. 2010 is also a time for contemplation and consideration of how this decade will fulfil desires, material gains and provide stability into the long-term.

2010 is a favourable time to initiate and integrate personal and professional plans and to step out of the comfort zone and aspire to fulfilling your best potential and ambitions.

Love will surely reign all through the year 2010 as numerologically 2010 represents a 3 – a time of building strong foundations in all personal relationships. Matters of the Heart and Love will be everywhere; you will feel it with all the senses and achieve much deserved satisfaction from life if you concentrate on the quality and not so much the quantity that life has to offer!

According to the Chinese calendar, the 2010 Chinese New Year coincides with the 14th of February - St. Valentine's Day and so the year is so right for expressing your feelings....so ASK for what you want!

As 2010 is the year of the metal Tiger it will be a good year to present your partners, lovers, friends and family with silver items – as it is believed that this will surely bring luck, fortune and prosperity to the recipients.

The 2010 horoscope forecast is quite successful for all the Zodiac signs, yet still a little unstable during the first quarter of the year, but as we approach the Summer it seems to settle in areas important to relationships and the home. The material side of life up until April requires careful management, but this eases considerably through June, but spiritually the 2010 year will be so fruitful and positive, that any material concerns fade away in the light of personal awareness and awakening.

2010 is a fantastic year to aim at fulfilling your most cherished plans!

ARIES

21st March - 20th April

Aries - with Mars making an early entrance in 2010 the year promises to be more successful than the previous one. Your efforts make for an easy and trouble-free start to your more creative goals. As expansive Jupiter and provocative Uranus enters the sky, you will need patience, moderation, self-discipline and diligence in your attitude but your strength and perseverance wins through with any challenge. Business trips abroad and communication with overseas partners will be successful. 2010 is a great year to improve your education. The Jupiter-Saturn-Pluto Triangle in August makes this the very best time to start a course or qualification that you have wanted for a while and to get serious about your priorities both at home and at work.

The year will start with planning and looking at your routines and time-management and a re-think about your ambitions. From January to May 2010 Aries will succeed in resuming old relations and striking up new business acquaintances. During the year it will be unwise to take risks and get involved in risky ventures, no matter how tempting or profitable they look. The most successful time of the year is from 15th May to 25th

June when your ruler Mars will be in your sign and enable you to make a qualitative step up. This is a brilliant opportunity as you focus your talents and abilities and your decisions and actions prove very successful. The first half of the year is materially steady, especially during April and May; but be cautious with your resources in November and late December.

Your private life promises to be calm and quiet through 2010. Fate and lucky coincidences will make Aries confident, so even the most hopelessly romantic situation will turn out fine and everything will fall into place. In the second half of June, your past may remind you of itself, so during this time be careful of some embarrassing moments. Early March and the whole June this year is the best time for love relationships either finding love or making commitments. It also heralds a wonderful time of settled and good relations with your extended family.

TAURUS

21st April - 21st May

Taurus the start of 2010 will be busy, mainly with partnerships, home, family and dealings with relatives, because it will be necessary to restore good communications and help to reconcile those who have quarrelled. Jupiter enters Capricorn at the start of the New Year and this favours Taurus in the desire to start a completely new chapter in 2010, a new relationship, new career or new home could be yours for the taking, so in this special time determine your efforts and actions, and thanks to Jupiter, you may well succeed in achieving all that you desire.

January's Eclipse will inspire an idea which could blossom as early as June and fiery Mars fans the flames of a summer romance that could see a happy-ending in early October. Some estrangement in the family or strained relations with parents may surface again, especially in mid-summer, but it is dealt with swiftly and settles quickly. You may be planning some repairs or refurbishment in the home and you may want to try your hand at a spot of DIY so plan carefully as you start. The presence of Saturn will favour you Taurus, a windfall or profits from a speculative venture is achieved but keep this to your self: but be cautious and avoid making financial decisions in December.

In the first half the year Taurus you may feel dejected and overwhelmed by responsibilities and duties, but team work and support eases the burden. It will be a great idea to do some space-clearing and to make a list of your priorities and goals for the first part of 2010. February is the most favourable time for career development as throughout this month you can achieve more than with months of hard work. The most successful time falls from March to the end of April, however be especially cautious in June with your spending.

The planet of Venus rules matters of the heart from April onwards heralding a lucky encounter in love with talk of commitments or marriage is very possible in late July, early August. Be careful of keeping secrets in December as they will be uncovered which could be unsettling both emotionally and financially.

GEMINI

22nd May - 21st June

Gemini, the recent changes you have experienced in work has left you feeling a little uncertain regarding your next move as you enter the New Year. Don't be too hasty to get the year off to a flying start as the planets advise some quiet contemplation, meditation and privacy, which is contrary to Gemini's character.

The success planet of Jupiter remains focused on career and business until June and maintaining a sense of detachment will be an advantage when pushing plans for career and business to a successful conclusion, whilst keeping your emotions in check. Despite the conflicting influences of Saturn and Neptune this is a successful year for you Gemini in all matters material with sure and steady success.

April and May sees a good return on your investment of time and resources and making new contacts. However, caution is advised in August when Mars is opposed to Jupiter as some obstacles could arise connected to work or personal life. Keep a steady and clear head as you may be overwhelmed by frustration that leads to arguments and disagreements during this time.

In August and early September your attention will be on the home and a possible house move predicted. There will be some urgency to settle your self and so expenditure could increase to sort out the house or help out a family member.

Keep your own counsel regarding your personal affairs as you will avoid any gossip or rumours if you do so.

Gemini, if you have been wondering why your love-life has been so dull in the past couple of years it was due to the conflict of planets in the romance sector of your chart. In 2010 your personal life definitely improves so don't let old patterns interfere with a new romance as it blossoms happily in late 2010 into 2011 when a fairytale unfolds to warm your heart.

CANCER

22nd June - 23rd July

The start of 2010 sees most Cancerians involved with taking care of themselves. Looking after diet, fitness and generally wanting to improve their overall health and well-being which leads to improvement in vitality and energy throughout the year.

For the most part there will be few problems relating to work or career matters for Cancerians, but should you want to see a step up the ladder, salary increases or a change in your job or career path altogether, favourable Jupiter will enhance your outcome from the start. It seems that you could achieve a fast-start to the New Year with some strong career or business growth by May 2010 such as bonuses, promotions and a great deal of personal satisfaction and self esteem. Mars's dynamic influence around finances sees improvements as early as April which continue to grow and improve throughout the year leading to some important financial decisions and investments into 2011. In all matters of the heart for gentle Cancer the year is peaceful and quietly flows from strength to strength. As far as extended family are concerned set clear boundaries to avoid any petty quarrels or disagreements. For singletons, the early part of 2010 asks that you let go of a romantic interest that is not working to allow Mars and Venus to lay the ground for a special encounter to emerge. You shouldn't have to go far in search of love and may even trip over Cupid a few times before the penny drops. If fate, or circumstances, conspires to keep you bumping into someone who catches your eye don't be bashful about making the first move. Friendship and romance are connected so a friend may introduce you to someone special or even become your lover. Misunderstandings or gossip could cause complications so don't expect others to read your mind, communicate. A possible holiday romance in the summer could see a warm and loving reunion in October that keeps you smiling till the end of the year with some special plans set out for 2011.

LEO

24th July - 23rd August

Leo, the start of the year could focus your attention toward the winds of change as the transit of Mars in the first half of 2010 brings you happy and fateful events to increase your confidence even in the light of some tough material pressures left over from 2009. This can be a very dynamic time for you personally, a time to assert yourself and your needs and to get things done. Therefore if you've a new project, goal or ambition you'd like to achieve, then with Mars in your sign, you should feel an extra drive and determination to succeed. However, you won't take kindly to being blocked, frustrated or being told what to do and will fight for what you want and if necessary and may even go it alone, but make sure you get good advice before starting anything major. As your talents emerge and you receive much deserved recognition you may also decide on a change of image as well. Leo you are very well favoured for being in the right place at the right time, so luck could play an important role in the year ahead, so pick up a raffle ticket for charity perhaps! A small warning during January and February to look out for any dubious or suspicious contracts that are brought to your attention, best not to be involved. April-May on the other hand opens your social and business network and you make some great new friends with some great nights out. In all matters of business and work do not be drawn into gossip or power-struggles and keep a neutral attitude. In the first half of August you will resolve any concerns over property and as Saturn leaves your sign in September you can breathe a sigh of relief as a solid career achievement boosts your gains and you can now easily meet your responsibilities.

October allows for a well deserved rest and possible unexpected travel will do a lot to restore body mind and soul. As for your private life you may find yourself moving in circles of the rich and famous and as someone a little older enters your sphere there is a grand passion in the making as both Venus and Jupiter unite in heralding the start of something very special indeed.

VIRGO

24th August - 23rd September

Virgo you will enter the year still feeling the affects of the last 12 months, but with the Solar Eclipse in January there will be some much needed respite.

The start of the year may feel burdened by a sense of duty and self-sacrifice but with lucky Jupiter placed very favourably in your chart you will be able to expand your vision and reach some much sought after goals by April. Although much of the year will be focused on your finances there is also an opportunity to improve your standing with shrewd and well-advised decisions regarding considered purchases in real estate, furnishing and transport.

February, March and April are the most favourable months of the year for any changes regarding career or professional direction/location and if you started the year with some dissatisfaction in this area, then you may well see a step-up on the career ladder should you decide to make changes. This is the right time to show your management capabilities. If you are in business, 2010 gives you opportune time to start new projects, especially during the first two quarters of the year. Most Virgos will be full of a high degree of optimism and energy from the second quarter till the end of the year.

You will have to continue to work steadily to see improvements in your prosperity but as the year progresses the pressure eases substantially and you can begin to enjoy yourself a lot more.

June to September should be handled cautiously especially if dealing with family members or other people's money and try not to be tempted by luxury items as later in the year they are more affordable.

Business trips or overseas travel may come up in November with some good results. You will need to be mindful of keeping a good work-life balance as due to work responsibilities you may neglect your partner or loved one a little, which could lead to petty arguments and tetchiness. For single Virgos despite the material pressures the whole of 2010 is a great year to get visible – try a new hobby or social activity that brings fun and laughter. Consequently some-one special enters your life by March with a whirlwind romance to follow that has you walking on air. In October and November talk of commitments for 2011 will put you in a “happy” place.

LIBRA

24th September - 23rd October

As you begin 2010 Libra, the current Saturn transit in your sign urges you to have a more structured and disciplined approach and the emphasis will be on organisation of all plans and projects. The presence of Jupiter in Pisces for most of the year will enhance your ability to succeed where you have failed in the past. A strong influence by Saturn on fate and destiny could literally put you in the right place at the right time and with this powerful influence business networking and an improvement in your status seem inevitable. Your hard work and diligence will reap rewards toward the latter part of 2010 and you will achieve significant recognition and support from your colleagues and co-workers. Subsequently you may even see improvements as early as March and April. If you are a business person, 2010 will bring in new associations and increase in your turnover. For salaried people, 2010 will bring in new and challenging projects that create success. Most Librans will be highly motivated in the work place and from third quarter onwards real benefits are achieved. Fieldwork will give you chance to hone your convincing and good communication skills and it is advised that you not to lose touch with your old clients and acquaintances. A summer encounter will encourage you to see yourself in a new and positive light with a close personal relationship flourishing toward November's midheaven Solar Eclipse.

During this time an unexpected work opportunity arrives that could be very liberating for you. In the early part of August watch your cash flow, but once through this sticky patch, your astute management mends what ever stress you have had but remain cautious with money through November.

Your personal life seems to flourish through the year and your partner may suggest a new way of earning income over and above what you have already, so you could be going into business together. For Librans looking for love, Venus is well placed in the heavens during February and March. New acquaintances will come along, so take your time in getting to grips with the special feelings that surface between you. June makes for a wonderful time of fun and frolics taking you to a new level, with a very nice unexpected romantic weekend lifting you to new heights, but don't worry you won't come down with a bump, but rather a soft place to land in the arms of your soul mate.

SCORPIO

24th October - 22nd November

Scorpio get ready to rumble! 2010 is your year to shine and even though you have had to let go of something, rather than lament its passing, celebrate the start of a buoyant and very successful era in your life. There are going to be new and exciting ways to earn money by maximising your income. For artistic Scorpios who are writers, musicians or artists this year is particularly favourable. If you are in business, this year is a time of careful and prudent investments, as the more you earn, the more you are willing to take a risk, so be cautious. But with expansive Saturn influencing the heavens in June, your success is bright and swift. Family matters require attention in March and November and your advice and support goes a long way to settling any problems that come to light in the family and happily this is reciprocated and appreciated as well.

In June and July you may evaluate your qualifications and skills and enrol in a new course or class for the Autumn and you will be very glad you did come 2011.

You may be asked to keep a secret in the Summer and mind that you do, to prevent any sticky situations later on. Your interest in the spiritual side of life increases in the Summer and you could find yourself in a lovely seminar or workshop that makes a huge difference to your inner well-being.

The year 2010 will also be very positive in terms of love and romance for most Scorpio people as your passion increases in you will attract a lot of new and interesting people into your life. There is a high probability of finding more than one partner, though at different times. Your sparkling personality and clever wit will make you very magnetic to the opposite sex and it seems you will thrive in the limelight. From June to the end of August your social life is a whirl of activity and a significant person emerges in the early Autumn. You will end the year on a lovely feeling of happiness and settled material foundations and for Scorpios who are in settled relationships Venus and Mercury guide the partnership onto new and better levels of communication as you plan for 2011. The home and family are safe, secure and cosy.

SAGITTARIUS

23rd November - 21st December

Sagittarius, hope springs eternal for you especially when it revolves around money and finances at the start of the year and although you will have to manage uncompromising Pluto in April, new options open up for you and a review of your commitments brings a welcome change. The whole year is favourable because expansive Jupiter remains a significant influence throughout the year, even though you have some conflict between Saturn and Neptune, Jupiter dispels this quickly and easily and a relevant career opportunity will offer a different and more rewarding direction by March/April. Your ambitions are geared up for developing new and exciting skills which are supported in the workplace. Your deepening interest in spiritual matters will encourage you to ask relevant questions concerning your own awareness and development of your emerging intuition. If you intend to travel in 2010 make sure all you travel plans, visas, itinerary and transfers are all confirmed well in advance to avoid any confusion, conflict or misunderstanding with local authorities which may arise. It seems that your drive and ambition is supported with some major results career-wise by May and as your confidence increases in the Summer, a likely promotion, job offer or recognition of your efforts will bring a “just” reward. Tempting career prospects may require a move to another location or city in the second half of the year but be careful in mid October when work or business may come up against a few obstacles and some contracts or negotiations could be delayed until the beginning of November. Be mindful of all your personal finances and watch statements or credit cards for administration errors during this time.

Romantically the year proves to be uplifting and generally very happy and peaceful, although not without a couple of bumps in the road due to the opposing influences of Mars and Jupiter that could lead to some arguments, quarrels or misunderstandings in the late Summer. Sagittarians in long-standing relationships need to work a little at keeping their relationships fresh and avoid taking one another for granted. Make time for candle-lit suppers and cuddles to prevent any feelings of uncertainty and remember to communicate clearly when unsettled. Loving partnerships and happy unions are forecast for November onwards when you will enter a new phase in your partnership with you mate.

CAPRICORN

22nd December - 20th January

Capricorn the start of the year requires some objectivity and acceptance that where you find yourself may not be where you expected to be, but with the powerful influence of Jupiter dispelling awkward Uranus, a surprising new chapter unfolds to lift your spirits. Your partly accomplished goals are given a new lease of life and whatever your career plans they are revived and confirmed by phone, e-mail or post by February/March and a much-wanted contract is offered. With your ruler Saturn opposing Uranus in April and Jupiter in August you are advised to let go of something that has been nothing but trouble and be determined to finish what you started in the Autumn of 2008. Finances and material gains improve as you begin to define or develop a way of earning higher levels of income, but be advised that when you do be cautious about how you spend the surplus. Planning ahead financially will ensure your holiday plans and investments are affordable and a review of savings, mortgage arrangements or pension plans will support finances long-term.

Be especially cautious with rumours and secrets during the Summer as you may become an unwitting victim of some-one else's gossip.

For single Capricorns your friends and social circle hold the key to love over the next twelve months. So whether a friend plays matchmaker or takes an interest, the more you get out and about and mingle, the more likely you will find yourself in new and exciting situations. Should you find yourself facing a choice between competing admirers, companionship and mental chemistry should come before sexually compatibility. Settled Capricorns will find themselves dealing with outside influences in their partner's work life during October and November which leaves you feeling unsure of how to help. The best course of action is to listen and by doing so your quiet strength brings comfort and stability to the relationship, but more importantly helps you partner to cope with the stress and to overcome the problem. Relationship with children will be wonderful and love will gently flow between all the family members. The later parts of the New Year will be smooth and fluid with no visible problems whatsoever. Social life will be just out of the world as people may mingle with friends and colleagues with a sense of purpose and indicates a blissful family life coupled with complete satisfaction and contentment.

AQUARIUS

21st January - 19th February

Aquarius 2010 is certainly a year of completion, fulfilment and expansion in all areas of life, as a transformational cycle completes and you take charge of yourself at the beginning of the year. Aquarius you are a law unto yourself most of the time and with the freedom-loving Jupiter and your rebellious ruler Uranus both emphasising how you communicate, a word of advice, try not to upset those around you with flippant remarks. You will start the year on a creative high, inspired and invigorated as you seek out new avenues of expression and recognition. Professional ambitions get off to a flying start, the result of successes in November and December 2009. You will receive support from an influential colleague and higher than anticipated expectations are fuelled by fiery Mars which results in a real sense of financial achievement by May/June and travelling to other countries is a distinct possibility for career Aquarians. It is advised to monitor diet and fitness and make sure that you are moderate and conservative in your life-style choices to avoid any past health matters from re-surfacing. Take your regular eye and dental checks as well and watch your posture when working on computers. Make sure you follow up on all important correspondence to avoid missing deadlines that attract penalties. If you drive, pay attention to your vehicle and check oil, fuel and water levels to avoid any mechanical faults that result from neglect.

It seems that with your new-found success your social network expands bringing you into contact with a stylish and fun-loving group who are trendy and influential. Your social life takes a turn for the better but be careful not to burn the candle at both ends, so pace yourself and enjoy the whirlwind of activity and popularity. Consequently there are plenty of opportunities for single Aquarians to revive their flagging spirits with a new and quite lovely romance that blossoms and grows throughout the year.

Relationships between people will be good, while the personal equation between spouse and lovers will be very pleasing and devoid of any problems. Material comfort, peace and relaxation are three important bywords for most Aquarians, although minor problems may appear during the latter part of the year. The end of the year may signify some disturbances between spouses because of the relocation-related problems and unmarried couples may hope to make wedding plans especially during September and December.

PISCES

20th February - 20th March

Pisces you have come a very long way in 2009 and now 2010 presents you with an opportunity to achieve even greater heights, but in order for you to do so you have to apply some firm decisiveness which is somewhat contrary to your innate dreamy and romantic nature. You have a luck sack in the form of giant Jupiter who watches over you for most of the year bringing notable rewards and well-deserved success, although the journey toward this outcome is not without a couple of challenges and obstacles. The start of the year requires a careful and strategic plan concerning career and finances. Importantly you must prioritise your time and manage your responsibilities without forgetting to relax and unwind as well by extending your hospitality to close friends and family. Your efforts within the career see a fruitful meeting or interview with some very significant confirmations by end of February which point you in the right direction, although you will have to be patient until June to see the material rewards. Your ruler Neptune expands your vision and enhances your higher self to receive guidance and insights through your dream-state which inspire and promote a real sense of confidence as you move through the Spring and into the Summer. You will begin to see your hard work and efforts in every area of life consolidate into a tangible and measurable sense of achievement and accomplishment as early as February and March (two weeks before and after your birthday in fact) and you are called on by colleagues and superiors to present your initiatives with worthy recognition and status following on. Promotion and financial increase, plus some very public recognition goes a long way to keeping your eye on the prize you have worked so hard for and by September you enter a very successful stage in your career or business life.

Your personal life also enters a stage where it develops swiftly and brightly with new friendships flourishing and growing from January all the way to July. An intense and alluring Summer encounter will run its course by the Autumn making way for a really intense and enchanting love affair to take its place. For all settled Pisceans, this is the best time to discuss beautiful promises of marriage and talk of the future together. Discussing the practicalities such as home, career and joint finances will give you both a real sense of happiness and peace of mind as you set up home and settle down. Overall dreamy Pisces you have proved yourself and now it's time to reap the rewards at home and at work.
