

TAURUS

2012 Monthly Forecasts

January

Your attention turns to debts, loans, and shared finances this month, dear Taurus. Taking charge of your finances, particularly those to do with a partner or from a source other than your basic income, becomes necessary. The first week of the month can bring emotional issues from your past to light, particularly those surrounding relationships. Past partners might resurface now. From the 18th forward, general fogginess tends to clear up. You are more confident about the direction you'd like your life to take. Friendships become clearer, and so do your business plans. The need to resolve tricky financial or intimate matters is strong, and energy is now excellent for objective analysis and for solutions. The 21st brings a revelation about a partner.

February

Work is demanding this month, dear Taurus, but also very rewarding. Higher-ups are putting more faith in you and your talents, and possibly managerial skills. Friends are especially helpful and enjoyable to be around. You are likely to find that by networking and paying attention to people in the same career field as you, or to those with similar interests, you are able to come up with some excellent ideas for your own life. A reward or helpful connection on the 7-9 or 13-15 is likely. The 27-28 brings illumination to a romance.

March

Friendships are especially dear to you this month, dear Taurus. You are meeting new people and enjoying making contact. For some of you, your romantic life could involve some sacrifices from the 7th forward. Others are keeping your love life secret just for the time being and enjoying your privacy. Home life is becoming more and more straightforward. In the next few months you will be pouring a lot of energy into your home and family, seeing to it that any complicated or confusing matters at home are straightened out.

April

Someone very close to you this month is going to have a very hard time making ends meet and tensions surface. If you help them out they will feel indebted to you for the rest of their life. Do not mistake their gratitude in this situation as a romantic notion; it would be a mistake to pursue them romantically. If you currently do not have love in your life, this is a good month to find it, if you look for it! That special someone will appear when you least expect it.

May

Mid-month forward is a feel-good time for you, dear Taurus, when you feel the need to make a fresh start. Communication problems can be a bit troublesome until then, however, particularly when it comes to money and love. Love ties are coming up for review, and the need to put the past behind you becomes insistent. Some of you will be determining whether a romantic relationship is strong enough to be brought forward. A surprising new friendship could develop this month. Home life is animated, busy, and involving.

June

Your romantic life picks up pace this month, dear Taurus, although it's not without its fair share of drama. Some adjustments and changes are necessary in order to bring harmony back to this area of your life. June is a good money month for you. It's excellent for financial planning, and also for a partner's finances, but the impulse to gamble or splurge might also be strong, and probably should be resisted. Your dreaming world is vivid and intuition exceptionally active. Listen to your inner voice! Career opportunities may come about suddenly.

July

Pressure in a romance (or with children for some of you) is definitely easing this month, and you're super-charged and ready to enjoy yourself, dear Taurus. Important conversations and communications occur in July that require special attention. Some of you have decided to begin new studies and to hone your skills. It's a good time for these matters, particularly since August brings whirlwind energy and stamina for working through projects. While family matters are certainly more comfortable than they were earlier in the year, more adjustments and changes are in order. Many of you have moved home or will soon, and a lot of energy is going into getting settled. A family member is a great friend and ally this month, and could inspire a new money-making idea. Again this month, a lot is going on inside and in your dreaming world. Hunches are powerful and hard to ignore. In fact, feelings that come seemingly out of the blue or through dreams could totally change your outlook and push you onto an entirely new path.

August

Much of your attention is directed towards daily activities including work, fitness, and other routine matters this month, dear Taurus. There can be competitive energies on the job, but also opportunities to truly smooth over differences. Love opportunities could arise through work or even at the gym around the 20th, but there may be a reason for your hesitancy. Enjoy yourself, but save major decisions for later. While love matters are generally strong in August, they are likely to give pause for review at a later date. From the 20th, a lover could be giving off mixed signals, or a romance could appear to be at a standstill. In fact, it's a good time to release any pressure you might have on your love life and step back to take a breather. Reassess matters and avoid a hectic pace. Home and family are also vying for your attention in August, and you happily tend to them, although work keeps you especially busy.

September

Personal relationships are a big focus this month, dear Taurus. While romantic matters can be complicated, misunderstandings and hesitancy lift by mid-month. Your affectionate nature is well-defined in September. The desire to bring harmony to partnerships and to enjoy leisure time with a lover is strong. A partner is likely to be especially spirited and amorous as well, demanding more of your attention, particularly in the last two weeks of the month. For some of you, a budding new partnership is possible, and for others, much focus on enhancing romance in an existing relationship is likely. It's time to have some fun! New opportunities through friendships, group associations, and other forms of networking might arise this month. Surprising events occur now that serve to jolt you out of your usual routine, particularly when it comes to friendships, finances, and career. Your reputation is enhanced on the 4-5, when good word spreads. Education matters or travel plans become clearer as motivation increases. Money matters improve through partnership.

October

Physical health improves this month and work matters become busier, dear Taurus. Relationships are tricky, however. Problems that have been brewing with a partner have their way of demanding your attention. While you should certainly discuss things through, major decision making is best put on hold. You or a partner need more time and shouldn't be pushed into a corner. New relationships started in October can begin with gusto, but then quickly become complicated. Pour your energy into productive paths. Get started on a new health and fitness routine.

November

At first, November is a time for rest, relaxation, and introspection, dear Taurus. You come out of your shell towards the end of the month, however. In the last week, a surprise encounter with a person from your past is possible. Wonderful energy is with you. Finances are strong--money or gifts come to you. Happiness and fulfillment through the expansion of your mind, widening your social circle, travel, or connections to people of a different cultural background than you are indicated this month. Your idealistic nature is stimulated this month.

December

You should get involved with activities that can be enjoyed by both young and old alike. Be careful how you deal with colleagues. You are best not to confront situations that deal with in-laws or relatives. You may blow situations out of proportion when dealing with the one you love. Your luckiest events this month will occur on a Saturday. Sharing, intimacy, finances, and power plays all figure strongly for you in December, dear Taurus. In the first three weeks of the month, you are thinking strategically, making plans, and watching others around you more than you are participating. You stand to gain much from your observations! The last week of the month brings with it buzz of travel or educational opportunities, most likely involving a partner, who has been going through a lot of changes recently. Creative avenues open up on the job this month, and your credibility soars.
