

SCORPIO

2012 Monthly Forecasts

January

It's a strong month for personal influence, dear Scorpio, particularly after the 18th, when you come across more smoothly and warmly. You can tackle challenges and problems more effectively than usual. Watch the impact you have on others now, which is considerable, and make any tweaks necessary to improve the impression you make going forward. Romance improves considerably. A partner or lover is easier to understand in the second half of the month. The 21st brings relationship issues to light. Your creative juices flow more smoothly and reliably in November. Energy to make more money is very strong now. You don't take kindly to anyone telling you how to manage your finances, however, and this attitude could stir up some conflicts.

February

Challenges with work continue and are unlikely to clear up until mid-March, dear Scorpio. While some of you are encountering difficult circumstances on the job, most of you are experiencing loss of enthusiasm within. You might be going through the motions for the time being. You are sure to regain energy and zeal, as well as a sense of direction, next month. For now, both career and home are demanding, and it's hard to find a balance. The 13-15 is strong for romance and creativity. February ends on a high note, with more time for recreation from the 18th.

April

The recent major changes in your life are going to settle down this month, and you'll be better prepared to face the rest of the year. Take some time to get outdoors even though it may be cold, something very good is slated to happen to you this month outdoors! Your very lucky this month, and is a very good time for you to buy lottery tickets, but don't overdo it. Your dreams will have a very memorable theme to them, but will be very hard to remember and analyze. No need to worry about it because they will be relatively meaningless.

March

Work and career matters are starting to move forward for you in March, dear Scorpio. After some months of delays, stalled plans, and perhaps lack of enthusiasm, you are starting to regain confidence, passion, and interest in your work. You can prepare yourself for a busy and active professional life in the next few months. For the first half of the month, however, you are able to take a break from the rigors of competition and pressure, finding more time for recreation. The 15-17 brings pleasurable surprises and attention your way.

May

May is an excellent month for giving your close personal relationships the attention they deserve, dear Scorpio. By mid-month, tensions and communication troubles clear up. A partner is more willing to share himself/herself on deeper, intimate levels. May 13th brings a rush of positive energy to a partnership. It's a great time for making new resolutions. Finances bring pleasant surprises this month and next, but money could be spent as quickly as they are earned if you are not careful! Your hobbies or sideline work can be especially lucrative this month.

June

Opportunities and new insights come in the areas of work and health this month, dear Scorpio. Some of you will become especially excited and hopeful about a new health and wellness program and this lifts your spirits to new heights, giving you a sense of having a new lease on life. Improvements or other opportunities at or through work can come out of the blue, boosting your confidence and improving your attitude towards your work. The temptation to break out of monotony or other lifeless aspects of a job is strong. Finances look promising.

July

You are feeling quite enthusiastic and hopeful this month, dear Scorpio. Around the 11th, events are such that you see your life from a whole new -- and more positive -- perspective. Your career is growing and some shuffling around is likely now as priorities change. Make a point of spending time with friends or of being involved in group settings this month, if this doesn't happen naturally. New ideas and inspiration can be found through your networking efforts. Work is busy but sometimes stressful. While work conditions have been looking especially promising, there are some kinks to work out, but these problems are designed to get you to a more realistic position. Treat added responsibilities as opportunities for future success. Much joy can be found through work in the coming year. Finances are similar. Changes in financial position are likely now, but these ultimately pave the way for increase. Love is mostly friendly in July, although the 8-10 can bring minor disappointments.

August

While career matters are very busy and dynamic this month, dear Scorpio, your personal life is also rich. A private romance is possible, or an awakening of feelings about a past relationship occurs this month. Perhaps you become aware of a past responsibility that you now want to fulfil. You are taking charge on the job, and while changes in duties and responsibilities are still looming, you are feeling good about your position. Work is competitive, but you might find that it's more stimulating this way and pushing you to work more creatively. Power games are no fun, however, and these should be avoided as much as possible. Be especially mindful of your communications with friends and groups this month, as something said (or not said) could come back to haunt you after the 20th. From the 23rd forward, there is more focus on your social life and less on responsibilities and work. The 24th brings great creative energy, as well as the possibility of a blooming romance.

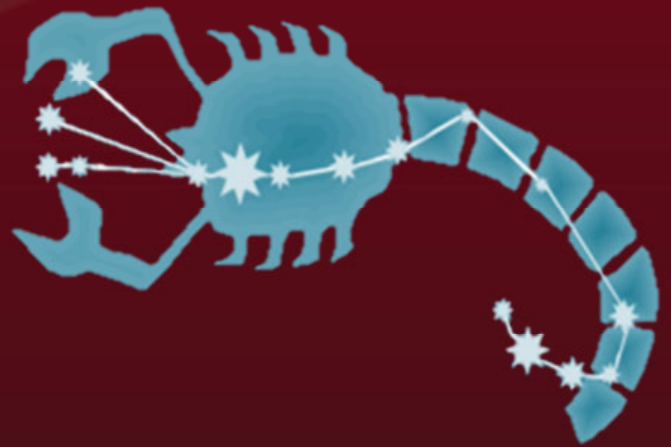

September

A personally popular month is in store for you, dear Scorpio. You are easily making connections, and your attitude is upbeat. Until the 14th, you continue to take time when it comes to setting goals and going after what you want, however. You are getting in touch with what it is you desire. After the 14th, clarity comes. You experience increased energy and motivation for setting personal plans into motion. For those looking for work, job offers might arrive. Any misunderstandings with friends are likely to clear from the 12th. From the 8th, personal magnetism runs exceptionally high. A partner has your best interests at heart. New intuition or insights come to you around the 18th regarding romance and creativity. Surprises are in store. For some of you, unusual and exciting romantic experiences are possible. You are inclined to take chances on creative or romantic levels. Something might inspire you to try out a new creative hobby or adventure altogether. Your impulses tend to be right on the mark. Others feel your enthusiasm and tend to follow your lead. From the 22nd, you require a little more time alone to regroup.

November

Your focus in November, dear Scorpio, is routine work, acquiring new skills, and health. Romantic and social activities revolve around your working environment. You enjoy increased communications with children and lovers this month. The role of teacher could be a possibility this month. Emotionality around the Full Moon is par for the course. You can surprise others--and even yourself--with what comes bubbling up from within. From the 18-22, social, work, and learning opportunities abound. This is a good time to take a course and to grab the attention of an audience.

October

While you are keeping others at a distance emotionally this month, dear Scorpio, you are charged up and ready to pursue your goals. Work is demanding, and you could be facing many deadlines. Stay on top of things. There is no easy road right now. A past love could reappear, or you could be facing some feelings of destiny or fate in your partnerships. Others have your interests in mind, however complicated feelings can be now. Receipt of money owed to you or a borrowed item can occur in the last week of the month.

December

Your doubt could lead to insecurity. Your ability to visualize will help you convince others of the possibilities. New romantic partners will evolve through group endeavours; however, the association may not be likely to last. Unexpected events may be upsetting. Your luckiest events this month will occur on a Tuesday. In many ways, December is a money month for you, dear Scorpio. You enjoy extra energy and enthusiasm for increasing your income. It's an excellent opportunity period for a bonus or raise that truly makes a difference in your life! You could be taking on a bigger work load at the same time. If you're waiting for money in the form of a loan or repayment of a debt to you, it's likely to arrive around the Full Moon. December is a banner month for finances, communications, and learning.
