

SAGITTARIUS

2012 Monthly Forecasts

January

Renewed stamina, energy, and confidence are with you this month, dear Sagittarius. You are more assertive and direct when you are going after what you want. However, until the 22nd, part of you craves some solitude as you instinctively pull back from putting your heart into new endeavours. Admirers and love interests make their interest in you known. You are more communicative after the 8th. Home and family matters improve greatly from the 18th. You might receive news of securing a new residence or property, or your domestic situation is more satisfying and comfortable. While your love feelings remain deeply personal and private, you begin to trust your instincts about love matters more faithfully. Work matters are illuminated around the 21st, when your job demands special attention.

February

You are paying much more attention to personal matters than you are to professional and social endeavours these days, dear Sagittarius. The focus is on your feelings, intuition, and comfort rather than what the rest of the world expects of you. The first two weeks of February are exceptionally busy for paperwork, errands, learning, and intellectual projects. Family members and those close to home are especially helpful to you in February. A friend might be disapproving or difficult, but pay attention - he or she might have a good point. The 27-28 brings career surprises.

March

A very pleasing and heart-warming month is in store for you, dear Sagittarius. After months of confusing signals in the romance department, love becomes clearer and you are rebuilding your faith and confidence in people around you. From the 7th forward, in fact, your personal charisma skyrockets. Travel and educational plans are beginning to show movement forward. Some of you are meeting romantic interests from a different cultural background than yours. Home life is rewarding and supportive, especially since you are giving back and taking the time to make family feel special.

April

If it is possible to cancel your travel plans for this month, then it is advisable that you do so. The reason is your travel this month looks very hectic and stressful. I do not however foresee any accidents, but then again I don't see any safe signs either. Be careful with your finances because it will become very easy for you to overspend. Also, be mindful of the plans that those around you are making, that you don't accidentally interfere with their plans.

May

May is strong for social life, negotiations, and communications, dear Sagittarius. However, before mid-month, some conversations can be strained and non-productive, particularly with a partner and on the job. It's best to leave important conversations for the second half of May. Some problems balancing career and family obligations are likely. Your spirit for adventure runs high, yet you are especially busy with work obligations and health routines. A new home or living arrangement might be in the offing. The 26-28 brings a surprising personal revelation. It's time to listen to your heart.

June

An exciting and uplifting month is in store for you, dear Sagittarius. Your creative juices are flowing and you are feeling especially demonstrative, confident, and adventurous. Romance and partnership are strong, and your personal magnetism gets a pleasing boost. Taking creative or romantic chances is likely. Many of you will be focusing on learning, improving your skills set, and possibly writing or speaking in new and more creative ways this month. In the last week of June, financial changes or worries are likely, however, and need special attention.

July

Energy levels continue to be strong for you this month, dear Sagittarius. Events are such, however, that tame some of the wild optimism you have been feeling. This is designed to get you on a more realistic track. Challenging or perplexing decisions may need to be made with regards to your social relationships or with children. Financial new beginnings may be in store for you in July. Circumstances require that you rethink your financial strategies. Debts and loans, financial backing, or a partner's income are part of the picture. Develop strategies to cut out unhealthy dependencies and habits that prevent you from growing as a person. A lot of your energy is channelled into pursuing business and career goals, and you have charm working for you from the 10th on a professional level. You are entering a long-term cycle in which you are more capable of meeting your responsibilities and seeing the world in a more realistic way. Your thoughts are progressive this month and a partner is supportive of your goals, both spiritual and professional.

August

Competitive energies with associates and friends are likely in August, dear Sagittarius. These can be pleasant or disconcerting, sometimes both at once, but certainly stimulating. Friends are likely to turn to you for advice, and you could easily find yourself in the middle! Some of you might begin a new love relationship through a friend or networking efforts. Financial matters, particularly money earned from business, can be tense for the time being, although changes taking place now are likely to bring you to a much better place at a later date. Until the 23rd, you are feeling especially adventurous and philosophical. An energy boost has you thinking of breaking the routine and expanding your experiences. You're in a mostly cheerful mood and it's easy to find like-minded people to share it with. From the 23rd, career matters and responsibilities come into focus. If you've cut any corners in work projects recently, these will probably come back for review and redoing. The 24th can bring family and home matters to your attention.

September

Career matters are strong this month, dear Sagittarius. Whether you are seeking it or not, you are in the spotlight. Show the most competent and responsible side of your nature now for maximum success. While there can be some backtracking and progress might seem slow, after the 12th, these matters clear up. A partner or partnership becomes clearer mid-month, as do financial matters. Many of you will be focusing on learning, improving your skills set, and possibly writing or speaking in new ways this month. Excitement on the home front is brewing. New and exciting energy is brought to your domestic life. There may be a scurry of activity at this time, or opportunities that seem to come out of the blue. From the 8th forward, your love life is especially private or quiet. This trend continues until January 2012, as Venus will be spending an unusual amount of time in your privacy and soul sector. You're less outwardly affectionate and require some time to soul-search about your love life. The 23rd brings new light on a romantic or creative endeavour. Emotions run high. Creatively, this is a month in which you are really finding yourself and connecting to your hidden or dormant talents.

November

The first few weeks of this month are all about having a good time, dear Sagittarius. It's time to enjoy yourself! Do watch for overspending, however, as you are especially attracted to speculative ventures just now. You could enjoy material benefits coming from real estate or family. Alternatively, you may have more resources with which to splurge on yourself, plumping up your nest or your store of personal possessions. A major purchase or sale is very possible. Love matters tend to be laced with a touch of drama, and romantic inclinations run high.

October

Team work, group activities, and networking are big themes for you this month, dear Sagittarius. As sociable the climate is in October, a lot is going on behind the scenes on an inner level. Matters from the past, particularly regarding love and relationships, are cropping up now for review. Love is complicated and sometimes confusing. It's best to sort out your feelings before coming to any concrete decisions or conclusions. The 22nd brings strong emotions to the surface and new information about a friend. The 28th brings renewed stamina and energy.

December

Don't exhaust yourself or minor health problems will set in. You may experience financial loss if you don't use good judgment. Secret affairs may be tempting. You may find that you're being used. Your luckiest events this month will occur on a Monday. Energy, verve, and confidence are with you this month, dear Sagittarius, until the last week of the month when your life winds down, quite appropriately! Until then, it's hustle and bustle, and matters are definitely working in your favour. Don't be surprised if romantic opportunities find you easily and when you least expect them it's just that kind of month. A love interest has your best interests at heart just now. A proposal involving money comes to you in the last week of December. Writers and artists are especially inspired during this period.
