

CAPRICORN

2012 Monthly Forecasts

January

Social relationships are once again in focus this month, dear Capricorn. Tricky or complicated dealings with others tend to clear up after the 18th, when your communication skills improve and your dealings with others are more direct and straightforward. The 20-21 brings a social matter to a head or culmination, demanding your immediate attention. Money from a business or self-employment increases at this time as well. Your intuition surrounding finances improves, and you are able to put more faith in your ability to manage your money effectively. Despite a busy social agenda this month, you are moving into a more introspective cycle in which you crave more time to yourself, more sleep and rest, and more solitude in general. Take this time for rest and reflection, as December promises to be especially busy.

March

You are feeling empowered and productive this month, with energy to spare, dear Capricorn. Family and domestic conditions improve this month, as do finances, especially money and property shared with a partner or coming from outside sources other than your personal income. You begin March with a lot of little things to do - errands, returning phone calls and emails, appointments, and paperwork. The 15-17 brings surprising but pleasant news. As the month advances, much pleasure is derived from family and home life, even if the pressures of work still call you!

February

A strong focus on practical matters this month keeps your mind on security and comfort matters for the most part, dear Capricorn. At the same time, you have so many ideas for the future that it's hard to settle on just one. This is not the best month for presenting or implementing your ideas, however, because they require more work, refinement, and thought. February is a period of adjustments rather than new beginnings. The 28th brings new opportunities for learning, teaching, sharing, and possibly publishing or promotion for some of you.

April

Someone from your past crosses your path this month and it takes you by surprise! It is advisable that you do not create in the long-term relationships with this person if you can be avoided. Take some time and sole search about the direction that you're heading in life, and those doubts that you have been experiencing lately, may go away. Be careful this month if you have to do any travelling, because I foresee this to be a overall bad month for travel for everyone.

May

A mostly entertaining month is in store for you, dear Capricorn. While some communication snafus can get your goat, especially with a romantic partner, your creative flow returns mid-month. The chance for creative and romantic new beginnings arrives just in time to revitalize your outlook. The urge to work is weaker than usual, so if you can manage it, down time or a vacation might be in order. Finances are strong, particularly those related to the communications industry and online endeavours. You are especially intuitive when it comes to financial prospects.

June

A busy month for work is in store, dear Capricorn, but your social life is not suffering. New and exciting energy is brought to your domestic life this month. There may be a scurry of activity in your home and with your family in June, or opportunities to move or expand that seem to come out of the blue. Gifts, bonuses, or good news on the financial front are likely. The last week of the month brings some changes and perhaps drama to a close personal relationship or with friends.

July

Getting your love life into order is a strong theme this month, dear Capricorn. Before the 11th, take the time to get in touch with your relationship needs so that when the eclipse in your partnership sector arrives on the 11th, you are ready to make a fresh start. Complicated decisions are likely in July revolving around learning and education. Some of you will be deciding whether a project or idea is worth pursuing any longer. A strong focus on career goals, along with the re-emergence of increased responsibilities and workloads, are in focus from the 21st. You may be feeling pressured or scrutinized, but the adjustments you make as a result will dramatically improve your potential for success. Finances remain strong this month and your financial position becomes clearer. July is an excellent month for romance and partnership. Your willingness to listen to and support a partner are key. Charm is natural, and personal stamina is strong. Socially, people are seeing you in a most positive light.

August

With all of the attention you are pouring into career, family, and personal matters, dear Capricorn, you could feel that a partnership is wanting. However, while you can't ignore your close relationships, your attention to career is especially important right now. New responsibilities and challenges come your way and you need to be on top of your game. Luckily, you are enjoying the limelight and finding that others are seeing you in a most positive, responsible, and competent light. The need to discipline yourself and structure your time on a professional level becomes apparent. Some of you could meet a love interest through business this month. Travel and educational plans might change unexpectedly after the 20th. Pay attention to details instead of rushing through instructions, applications, and other plans. In some cases, rethinking your plans might be in order. A flurry of activity around the 24th is likely, which could find you running around on errands. Try not to stress out and instead get everything back to order one step at a time.

September

A feeling of personal power and stronger, clearer ambitions are with you this month, dear Capricorn. You are bolder and your vision is more lucid, especially from the 13th forward. There can be new insights and developments in learning areas, studies, in your neighbourhood or with siblings, or in activities surrounding communication. You may receive good news or you might read something that inspires you to change your learning focus, to write about a topic you hadn't considered before, or through channels that you have never tried, for example. You are more open to communicating about subjects or feelings that you have previously kept to yourself. Inspiration can be found now, and it's likely to come through your conversations or communications with others. From the 8th, romance is friendlier and more light-hearted. This trend continues until January 2012. Friends, group activities, and networking activities play a large role in your love life. In fact, the influence of friends and group connections is powerful throughout the year. You are expanding your horizons and friends are helping you to feel more connected and confident. The Full Moon on the 23rd illuminates a family matter.

November

More involvement with your immediate environment, community, and neighbourhood figure this month, dear Capricorn. You tend to be sentimental or nostalgic now. If things are out of whack on the home front, you will do whatever you can to create a peaceful and stable atmosphere. You might focus on ways to earn money in or from your home. Loyalty and sensitivity in your relationships are more important to you than typically in the month. From the 20th, friendships and casual connections come into focus and offer much enjoyment.

October

Team work, group activities, and networking are big themes for you this month, dear Sagittarius. As sociable the climate is in October, a lot is going on behind the scenes on an inner level. Matters from the past, particularly regarding love and relationships, are cropping up now for review. Love is complicated and sometimes confusing. It's best to sort out your feelings before coming to any concrete decisions or conclusions. The 22nd brings strong emotions to the surface and new information about a friend. The 28th brings renewed stamina and energy.

December

Expect your workload to be heavy. You will have some wonderful ideas that should bring you extra money. Don't let your personal partner hold you back or slow you down. You need to do your own thing and work on making yourself the best you can be. Your luckiest events this month will occur on a Tuesday. Issues revolving around your family and the past capture much of your attention this month, dear Capricorn. While others are racing around you, preparing for the holidays, you are enjoying a sense of peace. The last week of the month begins a power period that you take with you into the New Year. Tremendous energy and initiative is with you as you embark on a journey of internal change and personal discovery. It feels like you can move mountains. The key to harnessing this energy is focus a natural talent for you!
